TOM BARKIN

Tom Barkin is the president and CEO of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, a position he has held since 2018. He serves on the Federal Reserve Bank's chief monetary policy body, the Federal Open Market Committee, and is responsible for the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond's bank supervision and the Federal Reserve's technology organization.

Tom is "on the ground" continually in the bank's Fifth District, which covers South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, D.C., West Virginia, and Maryland. His engagement in the region has brought real attention to areas facing economic challenges.

Prior to joining the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Tom was a senior partner and CFO at McKinsey & Company, a worldwide management consulting firm, where he also oversaw McKinsey's offices in the southern United States. He earned his bachelor's, MBA and law degrees from Harvard University.
